Travel Tips

Currency Exchange

You can change currency prior to your travel. This can also be done after arrival. You can either withdraw at an ATM with VISA/Eurocard/Mastercard (low fees) or change notes at an exchange counter at Pudong Airport (high fees) / change notes at any bank branch in the city (low fees).

Public Transportation

Metro in Shanghai

There are a dozen of metro lines in Shanghai, punctual and highly efficient. In general, they provide service from 5am to 23pm daily. Almost every station is equipped with automatic ticket machines with English interface and a help center. The price of ticket varies based on travelling distance. Only small notes below 20 RMB and coins are accepted by ticket machines. Tickets are also sold at the help center.

Taxi in Shanghai

Licensed taxis equipped with meter are reliable in Shanghai. Fare is paid mandatorily according to the meter. The passengers are expected to pay the full fare displayed on the meter plus the fare showed on a highway toll receipt at the end of the journey. Please keep the taxi receipt in case of Lost and Found. No extra for luggage and no tip for any type of journey. Please use RMB to pay the fares and refuse any suggestion on making payment with foreign currency.

If needed, the address of Hengshan Hotel in Chinese can be found on the first page of this document.

Insurance

Medical insurance covering your trip to China is strongly recommended.
